justify such a reduction—we're simply doing it to start something.We'll start something all right, but won't be able to stand the excitement for more than two days, so if you're interested, get busy.
Something like 800 suits in all, and more than 80% of them are Society Brand.But what is more to the point, most of the total is made up of finished and unfinished worsteds
—the longest wearing, best looking woolens woven.You can get these worsteds in the standard shades of navy blue, and every man needs at least one blue suit in his wardrobe.

VOCATION SYSTEM
DECEIVED BY FORBESIn Report to President, Veterans' Bureau Head Sees
"Too Much Theory."

The present system of federal vocational training contains "decidedly too much theory" and needs the injection of practical methods, Director Forbes of the veterans' bureau declared in a report to President Harding, made public yesterday and covering his recent countrywide inspection of hospitalization and vocational training facilities.

In making public the report Col. Forbes characterized the system as "unmistakably and absolutely wrong," and expressed doubt whether "very many men have actually been rehabilitated by the government and have gone back to their respective communities as wage-earners and assets."

Opposes Sweat-Shop System. "We have farmed men out under this system," the director added, in commenting on the report. "It is nothing short of crime and slavery to put men into some of the places they have been put. I am opposed to the sweat-shop system and I do not propose to let more of the former service men be exploited by mushroom houses that have sprung up merely to exploit the soldier and get the government's money."

Col. Forbes reiterated to the President the belief that a government vocational university for former service men and women would, in a measure, solve the problem. Few of the beneficiaries of the system, he added, get what they desire in the way of training and the government loses sight of them once they have been "farmed out to somebody who thinks only of the money they will make off of them."

Orders Given in Chicago. Orders were given in Chicago, the director said, for the discontinuance of training in certain schools and institutions having contracts with the government, because they were not providing the type of instruction which the beneficiaries had a right to receive. His survey, he said, had disclosed several instances where those under training were being exploited.

The morale in the hospitals was good, Col. Forbes declared, adding that he believed proper treatment was being administered. The transfer of Camp Ross of the Great Lakes naval training station to the bureau was urged, but its operation by the Navy Department was suggested because of its proximity to the training station. Steel buildings at the camp should accommodate 300 patients, Col. Forbes said. The St. Louis hospital should be completed immediately, he added.

HERO'S BODY ARRIVES
HERE FROM THE ARGONNEMachine Gunner Eopolucci Will Be Buried in Arlington-ton.

WILLIAM A. EOPOLUCCI.

The body of William Anthony Eopolucci, 312th Machine Gun Battalion, 79th Regiment, who was killed in action at Montfaucon, Argonne Forest, September 28, 1918, is due to arrive in Washington today, according to advices issued by the War Department. Funeral services and interment will be held during the week at Arlington National cemetery.

Young Eopolucci, son of Mrs. Annie M. Eopolucci of 649 I street southeast, was born here in 1895, and was the second member of the Eopolucci family to give his life in the great war. His older brother, John Eopolucci, served in the United States army and was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross for his part in the defense of the coast of Brest, France, being the first man serving in the Navy to be killed.

William Anthony Eopolucci was educated in the public schools of the District of Columbia, and when the United States entered the war was detailed to Camp Meade for training. He sailed for France ten months later as enlistment and took active part in all engagements of the 79th Regiment. He was unmarried and a communicant of St. Peter's Roman Catholic Church.

Besides his mother he is survived by one brother, Samuel J. Eopolucci, and three sisters, Mrs. Albert E. Johnston, Mrs. Chester C. Van Horn and Mrs. James Davis, all of this city. When sent to her home last night, Mrs. Eopolucci, pointing to pictures of all three of her boys in the uniform of Uncle Sam, said that what was hard to have to lose two sons there was consolation in the fact that they died honorable deaths while serving in defense of their country. Her youngest son, Samuel, was in the Navy during the war.

PICKED AS DELEGATES.

Confederate Veterans Chosen to Go to Encampment.

Washington Chapter, No. 171, United Confederate Veterans, will be represented at the approaching annual encampment of the "followers of the gray" at Chattanooga, Tenn., by the following delegates and alternates, chosen at a recent meeting held at the Confederate Memorial Gymnasium, 1322 Vermont avenue, Col. Charles M. Stedman, Capt. J. M. Hickey, Capt. David C. Grayson, Capt. Joseph Baumer Maj. J. Nichols, Col. Lucian W. Powell and Maj. F. M. Burrows.

The alternates will include: Capt. John W. Fife, John L. Follen, Capt. Frank M. Angelo, Capt. John W. Kenhart, Maj. Julian G. Moore, Capt. E. O. Seaggs and Capt. Robert Thomson. The steadily increasing disabilities of the veterans, it is pointed out, make it probable that the Chattanooga encampment, October 24 to 27, will be the last national reunion of its kind. A reunion of the Grand Camp of Confederate Veterans of Virginia will be held at Charlottesville, Va., a week previous to the national encampment. Delegates to this reunion will include Capt. J. E. Payne, Col. Marcus Thompson, Capt. C. Seaggs, J. P. Gillick, W. W. Chamberlain, Capt. D. C. Grayson and Maj. F. M. Burrows.

Residents at Charlottesville, it is stated, have agreed to house all delegates free of charge, while railroads have granted special rates.

EDWARD H. ANDREE DIES.

Fatality Follows a Skull Fracture
Due to Accident.

Edward Hunter Andree of 124 E street died Tuesday afternoon at Garfield Hospital, following a fracture of the skull suffered when a balance weight of the ladder of a fire escape which he was repairing at the Wallis apartments, 1847 Lamont street, dropped from the broken wire hawser, striking his head. The wire rope parted and the 200-pound weight fell forty feet, hitting the repair man on the head. Unconscious, he was taken to Garfield Hospital for treatment. He died a short time after arrival without regaining consciousness.

Andree was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Andree. He was seventeen years of age. Funeral arrangements have not yet been completed. Coroner Nevitt is conducting an investigation to determine whether an inquest is advisable or whether the issuance of a certificate of death will be made without such action.

QUICK REPLIES ASSURED.

Work of Settling Claims of Ex-
Service Men Hastened.

Fast work in the assortment of hundreds of thousands of government checks paid to members of the armed forces of the United States during the war was now enabled by the office of the controller general of the United States to give a twelve-hour service daily in settling claims of ex-service men.

When Controller General J. R. McCullum made an inspection of his office he found the checks in such a condition that it took several months to make an investigation. He promptly placed a flying squad at work in assorting them by numbers, and the estimate of the time needed to complete the work was that it would require until the first of the year. However, the force worked so fast that it was done in six weeks. They have been transferred to other work. Ex-service men having claims against the government involving money get prompt answers.

IN MEMORIAM.

BETTS. In sad and loving remembrance of our dear boy and brother, FRANCIS C. BETTS, who departed this life three years ago today, October 6, 1918.

Torn from the hearts that loved you,
Gone to the land of the hereafter,
Loved by all who knew you,
To rest in the land of the hereafter.This world may change from year to year,
Our friends from day to day,
But never shall one we love,
From memories fade away.In our hearts a memory lingers,
Sweetly, tender, fond and true;
There is not a day that passes
That we do not think of you.HIS LOVING FATHER AND MOTHER AND SISTER BERTHA.

BROOKE. In sad and loving remembrance of my beloved son, UPTON S. BROOKE, who died three years ago today, October 6, 1918.

Dearest Upton, you have left us:
We miss you most deeply feel.
But 'tis God who has bereft us;
He can all our sorrows heal.

IN MEMORIAM.

CARROLL. In loving remembrance of ROY CLIFFORD CARROLL, beloved and devoted son of Alice F. and Ray E. Carroll, who died in France three years ago today, October 6, 1918.

Dear little golden star, gone but not far,
Who gave his life for his country true,
The noblest cause we ever knew,
And every day it seems as though
We look for him in vain.If I could have seen you at the last,
And held your darling hand,
And heard the last sign from your heart,
I would not feel so sad.It is not the one who smiles the sweetest,
Whom you miss and your friends miss;
It is the one who stands up for you
And proves it in every crisis.HIS MOTHER AND DADDY.
CARROLL. A tribute of love and memory to ROY CLIFFORD CARROLL, who died in France three years ago today, October 6, 1918.

CARROLL. In loving remembrance of our beloved brother, ROY CLIFFORD CARROLL, who died in France three years ago today, October 6, 1918.

CARTER. In sad but loving remembrance of my dear son, GEORGE B. CARTER, who departed this life three years ago today, October 6, 1918.

Asleep in Jesus, blessed sleep,
From which none ever wakes to weep.

COXEN. In sad but loving remembrance of our dear daughter and sister, MARVEL COXEN, who died three years ago today, October 6, 1918.

Three years ago you left us,
Tears on our hearts today,
For you, who smiled to cheer us,
Have forever passed away.A happy home was made for you,
How sweet the memory still,
But death has left a loneliness
This world can never fill.A shadow rests upon our home,
We miss your well loved face,
Wherever we turn, wherever we look,
We see your vacant place.Every day brings back sweet memories,
Every hour we miss you more,
Deep within our hearts we cherish
The memory of you evermore.LOVING MOTHER, FATHER, BROTHERS AND SISTERS.

DEITON. In loving memory of a dear little son and father, GEORGE B. DEITON, who departed this life one year ago today, October 6, 1920.

Torn from the hearts that loved you,
Gone to the land of the hereafter,
Loved by all who knew you,
To rest in the land of the hereafter.To rest in the silent grave,
From which none ever wakes to weep.

DE VILLE. Sacred to the memory of our devoted daughters and sisters, HATTIE C. and IRA S., who entered into rest August 6, 1916, and October 6, 1910, respectively.

The memories of the dead are cherished in the hearts of the living.

BY THEIR PARENTS AND SISTERS.
GEDES. In sad but loving remembrance of our dear son and brother, JAMES W. GEDES, who gave his life for his country, three years ago today, October 6, 1918.

Villed, France, and was reinterred at the Wood Cemetery May 21, 1921.

"He bravely answered duty's call
And for his country fell;
God knows we miss his smiling face,
How much we can tell."He did his best, he gave his life,
And now beside those other brave
In silence he is sleeping
In a soldier's honored grave."HIS LOVING MOTHER AND SISTERS.
GODDARD. In sad but loving remembrance of our dear father, WILLIAM R. GODDARD, who died four years ago today, October 6, 1917.HIS DEVOTED CHILDREN.
HOLCOMBE. In loving remembrance of our dear son, LEROY H. HOLCOMBE, killed in France, October 5, 1918.Sometimes, between lonely shadows on the ground,
The faint voice whispers heart to heart;
My eyes grow dim with reverent thought,
Thinking I see thee, thinking I see thee.HIS WIFE.
HUTCH. In sad but loving remembrance of my dear son, HARRY F. HUTCH, who departed this life three years ago today, October 6, 1918.Today recalls the memory
Of a loved one hard to rest,
And those who still remember him
Are those who loved him best.HIS WIFE.
MYERS. In sad but loving remembrance of our brother, IRA Z. MYERS, who left us three years ago today, October 6, 1918.His memory lives in our hearts,
His loving mother, Mrs. EDNA M. BEALL and MARY MYERS.

GUNIAN. In loving memory of our dear son, LEROY GUNIAN, who passed away three years ago today, October 6, 1918.

There is grief that cannot find comfort,
And a love that cannot be stated,
And a sorrow deep in human heart
That cannot be revealed.HIS FAMILY.
ROSS. In sweet memory of GESSIE ROSS, who died two years ago today, October 6, 1919.My thoughts this night a dream sometimes fly,
To the land where you are resting,
To tell the truth, which speaks our last farewell.SISTER.
